

Levi jeans feature a logo of two horses pulling apart a pair of pants, as shown. Imagine that Levi only had one horse. One side of the Levis are attached to the horse but the other side is attached to a strong fence post. The tension exerted on the pants is now:

1. The same as when 2 horses are pulling on the pants.
2. One-half the amount when 2 horses are pulling on the pants.
3. Twice the amount when 2 horses are pulling on the pants.
